

A Resilient Tree Grows in Brooklyn... Become its Cherished Branch!

Ideal Properties Group LLC was founded on the principles of a dynamic professional environment devoted to cooperation, camaraderie, and team effort in the oftentimes cut-throat industry of real estate brokerage.

Today, Ideal Properties Group is one of the premier residential rental and commercial leasing agencies in Downtown Brooklyn. Ideal's real estate professionals have access to one of the most extensive and comprehensive rental database systems in New York City.

Ideal agents and associate brokers undergo a vigorous 50-hour training process, a process designed to productively introduce a newcomer to the day-to-day realities of working in the field.

A studied, proprietary combination of personalized, interactive classroom training enhanced with real-world simulation and field training ensures that newly minted agents receive their first commission checks by the end of the second week of association... and that the steady stream of commission checks never wavers.

Becoming a successful real estate professional is in direct correlation with support received. Ideal agents are spoiled - they have been trained and conditioned to expect the best, and receive the most:

1. New listings are provided daily by Ideal's in-house listing department. Our inventory is selective.
2. Direct marketing is a breeze at Ideal: agents are virtually four clicks away from being able to digitally introduce themselves to the world.
3. Every day, our award-winning graphic design and marketing teams are at your disposal. Each one of your listings, advertisements, brochures, billboards, building signs... are created and crafted in-house to help you develop a consistent, unique and vibrant brand-enhancing visual voice.
4. Keeping a keen eye on the market is vitally important for your business. Ideal's statistical researchers are shaping the borough's approach to information. As an Ideal agent, you will benefit from their work by knowing where, when, why, and to whom exactly to advertise your properties.
4. Ethics govern. Ideal agents are just that: staunch opponents of unscrupulous approach to the real estate business (this definitely includes bait and switch advertising!) We are proud to be real estate professionals, and we adhere to simple values: professional integrity, commitment, creativity, teamwork and collegiality. By joining Ideal, you will contribute to our efforts to make our profession the profession the public will find difficult to loathe, and easy to love and respect.

In short, expect an environment geared toward your long-term success. Expect our commitment to making sure you get where you want to be. If you are drawn to being able to achieve personal independence, financial freedom and long-term wealth – now may be just the right time.

We will work hard to ensure you build your name, your brand, and a career in real estate that works for YOU.
