New York Real Estate Institute Offers the Real Estate Salesperson Licensing Course Online

Comprehensive online courses help students successfully prepare for a new career

NEW YORK, Dec. 4 /PRNewswire/ -- New York Real Estate Institute, the region's number one learning institution for licensed real estate professionals, is offering online education for the new 75-hour real estate salesperson course and 30-hour remedial course in partnership with Hondros Learning. The comprehensive online courses help students prepare for their new career by focusing on the fundamentals of the real estate profession. The interactive courses include video clips and activities to highlight and reinforce key concepts. These high quality, engaging courses provide New York students with the education they need to obtain their New York real estate salesperson license and are fully approved by the New York State, Division of Licensing Services and the Association of Real Estate License Law Officials (ARELLO).

"Our courses are relevant, current and developed specifically for the New York real estate exam. The online courses are focused on what you need to know to pass the exam," said Richard Levine, President of New York Real Estate Institute. "Unlike any other online course, we use interaction to help students learn and retain the material. Our course is specifically designed for online education -- it's interactive, not just an online book."

"We are proud to help New York Real Estate Institute provide convenient and effective online courses to their students," said Dave Evangelisti, Vice President for Hondros Learning. "We look forward to continuing to deliver learning solutions that help our customers grow their business in a nearly effortless manner."
